I. GENERAL INFORMATION

This Privacy Policy (hereinafter: Rules) of A-Set Ltd. (hereinafter: Data Controller) about the processing of personal data provided to.

The Data Controller hereby informs the Customers who come into contact with it about its data management practices, the measures taken to protect the personal data in its possession and the remedies available to Customers.

Jurisdiction: The Data Controller provides the service from Hungary. Accordingly, the provision of the Service and the Customers' use of the Service, including data management, shall be governed by Hungarian law.

Applied law: The Data Controller shall process the Customer's data primarily in accordance with Act CXII of 2011 on the Right to Informational Self-Determination and Freedom of Information (hereinafter: Infotv. You can read the text of the Infotv. here: <https://net.jogtar.hu/jogszabaly?docid=A1100112.TV>) and the General Data Protection Regulation EU_2016./6797 (hereinafter: GDPR). You can read the text of the regulation here: <http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/HU/TXT/HTML/?uri=CELEX:32016R0679&from=EN>

Purpose of the Privacy Policy: Customers should be adequately informed about their rights and obligations in relation to the processing of their personal data. The Notice will provide Customers with information about the circumstances in which their personal data is processed, so that they can make an informed decision about whether to provide their data. This Information Notice is published in accordance with the Infotv. 20. § (2) of the GDPR, according to which the data subject must be informed in a clear and detailed manner, before the processing begins, of all the facts relating to the processing of his or her data, in particular the purpose and legal basis of the processing, the person who is authorised to process and process the data, the duration of the processing, whether the controller is entitled to process the personal data of the data subject in accordance with the provisions of the GDPR and the Infotv. 6. § (5) and who may access the data. The policy should also cover the rights and remedies of the data subject in relation to data processing.

III. DEFINITIONS

Data Controller: A-Set Ingatlanhasznosító Kft.

For the purposes of these Regulations, the definitions which shall apply are set out in Article 4 of the Regulation. Accordingly, the main concepts are described below:

1. 'personal data' means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ('data subject'); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person;
2. "processing" means any operation or set of operations which is performed upon personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction;
3. "restriction of processing" means the marking of stored personal data for the purpose of restricting their future processing;
4. "profiling" means any form of automated processing of personal data whereby personal data are used to evaluate certain personal aspects relating to a natural person, in particular to analyse or predict characteristics associated with that person's performance at work, economic situation, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behaviour, location or movements;
5. "pseudonymisation" means the processing of personal data in such a way that it is no longer possible to identify the natural person to whom the personal data relate without further information, provided that such further information is kept separately and technical and organisational measures are taken to ensure that no natural person who is identified or identifiable can be linked to that personal data;

6. "filing system" means a set of personal data, structured in any way, whether centralised, decentralised or structured according to functional or geographical criteria, which is accessible on the basis of specified criteria;
7. "controller" means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or any other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data; where the purposes and means of the processing are determined by Union or Member State law, the controller or specific criteria for the designation of the controller may also be determined by Union or Member State law;
8. "processor" means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or any other body which processes personal data on behalf of the controller;
9. "recipient" means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or any other body to whom or with which personal data are disclosed, whether or not a third party. Public authorities that may have access to personal data in the context of an individual investigation in accordance with Union or Member State law are not recipients; the processing of those data by those public authorities must comply with the applicable data protection rules in accordance with the purposes of the processing;
10. "third party": a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or any other body other than the data subject, the controller, the processor or the persons who, under the direct authority of the controller or processor, are authorised to process personal data;
11. "the data subject's consent" means a voluntary, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of the data subject's wishes, based on an appropriate policy, by which the data subject signifies his or her agreement to the processing of personal data concerning him or her by means of a statement or an unambiguous act of affirmation;
12. "data breach" means a breach of security that results in the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure of, or access to, personal data transmitted, stored or otherwise processed;
13. "Customer or Data Subject": the natural person whose personal data is processed.

IV. CHANGES TO THE RULES AND AVAILABILITY

The Data Controller may unilaterally amend the Policy in the following cases:

- If the amendment is justified by a change in legislation or a decision of a public authority, or
- If there is a material change in circumstances which could not have been foreseen when the Policy was published and the change is not prejudicial to the interests of the Customer, or
- If the data processing carried out under the Policy is changed in a way that is only beneficial to the Customer.

In such cases, it is sufficient to notify the amendment to the Rules, indicating the date of the amendment and the scope of the amended Rules, by sending an e-mail to www.garzongroup.hu for its binding effect.

In this regard, it is recommended to regularly visit the web link referred to below and to read the e-mail notifications received from the Data Controller in any case, in order to keep track of changes.

XI. WHO IS ENTITLED TO ACCESS THE DATA, TRANSFER OF DATA:

XI.1. Mandatory data transmission:

The Data Controller shall transmit data to the authorities in the case of a legal obligation, with the requested legal content.

XI.2. Data transmission for marketing purposes:

Processing and transfer of data for marketing purposes is only possible with the express consent of the Customer. A transfer for marketing purposes is granted if the data subject has given his or her explicit consent to the processing for marketing purposes.

XI.3. Other:

The Data Controller shall keep a record of data transfers in accordance with the Data Transfer Act.

Personal data is treated confidentially by the Data Controller and is not disclosed to third parties. Personal data processed by the Data Controller may only be accessed by the Data Processor of the Data Controller designated in point X.

The Data Controller shall ensure the accuracy, completeness and, where necessary for the purposes of the processing, timeliness of the data during processing and transmission.

XII. A DECLARATION OF THE USE OF A DATA PROCESSOR:

A processor is a natural or legal person who or which, on the basis of a contract concluded by the Data Controller or, at the Data Controller's discretion, with another processor, processes data processed by the Data Controller. The data processor may use an additional data processor at the discretion of the Data Controller.

The rights and obligations of the data processor in relation to the processing of personal data shall be determined by the Data Controller within the limits of the applicable law. The relevant contract must be in writing.

The Data Controller is present on the website as a data processor:

- Websupport Hungary Ltd. hosting service provider (Headquarters: 1119 Budapest, Fehérvári út 97-99., Company Registration No: 01-09-381419) A www.garzongroup.hu hosting service.

For more information on data processing: garzon@garzon.hu e-mail address at www.garzongroup.hu at the following address.

XIII. THE CUSTOMER'S RIGHTS IN RELATION TO DATA PROCESSING:

XIII.1. Information

The Customer may at any time request the Controller to inform him/her about the processing of his/her personal data. The Data Controller shall provide the data subject with the data stored in accordance with this Regulation in writing, in an intelligible form and at the data subject's request, within the shortest possible time from the request, but not later than 25 days.

The Customer may send a written request for the Policy to the Data Controller by post or e-mail. The Customer shall indicate in his/her request the identification data that allow the Data Controller to establish his/her right to access the personal data. The Customer shall indicate in his/her request the electronic or postal contact details to which the Data Controller can send the information.

The Customer may request information on the scope of the personal data processed, the source of the personal data, the purpose of the processing of the personal data, the legal basis on which the Controller processes the personal data, the period of time for which the Controller processes the personal data and the activities of the Controller in relation to the processing of personal data.

Upon request, the Data Controller shall provide information on the contractual partner to which the personal data have been transferred and the legal basis for the transfer.

If a data protection incident occurs during the processing, the Customer may also request information about the circumstances and effects of the incident and the measures taken by the Data Controller to remedy the incident. A personal data breach means that personal data is handled or processed in a way that is unlawful. This is the case in particular where personal data are accessed by unauthorised persons, unlawfully altered, transmitted or disclosed, unlawfully deleted or unlawfully destroyed. A data breach also occurs if personal data is destroyed or corrupted as a result of an unintentional event.

The Data Controller will provide the information to the Customer by e-mail. If the Customer submitting the request has not indicated his/her electronic contact details in the request or has expressly requested postal delivery, the Data Controller shall provide the information in writing by post. The Data Controller shall provide the information free of charge once a year for the scope of personal data specified in the request, after which the provision of the Policy shall be subject to an occasional charge in proportion to the costs incurred, the amount of which shall be notified to the data subject by the Data Controller prior to the request.

The Data Controller may refuse the policy of the data subject only in the following two cases:

- where, in the case of a possible transfer, the Controller already receives the personal data from the data exporter, the data exporter informs the Controller that the data subject's rights under the Policy are restricted by national or international law.
- If the right to the policy is restricted by law in the interests of the external and internal security of the State (for example, in the interests of national defence, national security, crime prevention or law enforcement, law enforcement), or in the economic or financial interests of the State or a municipality, a substantial economic or financial interest of the European Union, and for the purpose of preventing and detecting disciplinary or ethical breaches in the course of employment, labour law or employment protection, including in all cases for the purposes of control and supervision, and of protecting the rights of the person concerned or of others.

The Data Controller shall, also in the event of a refusal to provide information pursuant to this point, inform the Customer in writing of the grounds for the refusal, specifying the legal basis for the refusal. In this case, the Data Controller shall also inform the Customer about the possibility of judicial remedy and recourse to the Authority (for remedies, see point XV below).

XIII.2. Correction of data

The Customer may at any time request the Controller to correct his/her personal data if they are inaccurate. If the personal data is not accurate and the accurate personal data is available to the Data Controller, the Data Controller shall correct the personal data. The Customer may send a written request for rectification to the Data Controller by post or e-mail.

If the Data Controller does not comply with the Customer's request for rectification, it shall, within 25 days of receipt of the request, communicate the reasons for the refusal in writing or, with the Customer's consent, by electronic means, indicating the legal basis for the refusal. In this case, the Data Controller shall also inform the Customer of the possibility of judicial remedy and of recourse to the Authority.

Otherwise, within the processing period, the Customer is obliged to notify the Data Controller of any changes to his/her personal data, in particular to his/her e-mail address, in any case and without delay.

XIII.3. Data erasure (right to be forgotten)

The Customer may at any time request the termination of the processing and the deletion or blocking of his/her personal data by the Data Controller. In this case, the Client acknowledges the possible consequences of the termination of the Data Controller's right to data processing, i.e., for example, the Client may no longer visit the site as a registered user.

The Customer may at any time request the Controller to delete his/her personal data. The Customer may send a request for erasure or blocking to the Data Controller in writing by post or e-mail.

The Controller shall delete the personal data if:

- treated it unlawfully,
- the Customer requests the erasure or blocking of his/her personal data,
- the processing is incomplete or inaccurate and cannot be lawfully remedied, provided that erasure is not excluded by law,
- the purpose of the processing has ceased or the statutory time limit for storing the data has expired
- ordered by a court or the Authority.

If the Data Controller does not comply with the Customer's request for erasure within 25 days of receipt of the request, the Data Controller shall communicate the reasons for the refusal in writing or, with the Customer's consent, by electronic means, indicating the legal basis for the refusal. In this case, the Data Controller shall also inform the Customer of the possibility of judicial remedy and of recourse to the Authority.

XIII.4. Objection to the processing of personal data

The Customer has the right to object to the processing of his/her personal data in the following cases:

- where the processing of personal data is necessary solely for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Controller is subject or for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the Controller or by a third party,
- if the purpose of the processing of personal data is for direct marketing, public opinion polling or scientific research,
- if the Customer is allowed to do so by law.

The Customer may send a written objection to the Data Controller by post or e-mail. The Data Controller shall examine the objection and decide on its merits within a maximum of 15 days of its submission. The Data Controller shall inform the Customer of its decision in writing. If the Customer's objection is justified, the Data Controller shall terminate the processing and transfer of the data and block the personal data, and shall notify the objection and the measures taken on the basis of the objection to all those to whom the Customer has previously transferred personal data by means of the objection and who are obliged to take action to enforce the right to object.

The consequences set out in the first paragraph of point XIV.3 also apply in the event of an objection.

XIII.5. The right to data portability

The Customer has the right to receive the personal data provided to the Data Controller in a structured, legible form and, in some cases, to transmit these data to another Data Controller without hindrance.

XIII.6. Right to transparent rules

The Customer is entitled to an appropriate basic and free policy on the circumstances of data processing and the rights to which the Customer is entitled.

XIII.7. Right of access

The Customer has the right to request a copy of the personal data processed about him/her.

XIII.8. Restriction of processing

The Customer may request the restriction of processing, in which case the personal data may only be stored, other processing may only be carried out with the consent of the data subject, for the purpose of legal claims or in the public interest.

XIV. HANDLING DATA BREACHES

XIV. 1. The concept of a personal data breach

- Data breach: a breach of security leading to the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorised disclosure of, or access to, personal data transmitted, stored or otherwise processed; (Article 4.12 of the Regulation)
- The most common incidents reported include: loss of laptop or mobile phone, unsecure storage of personal data, unsecure transmission of data, attacks against servers, hacking of websites.

XIV.2. Handling and remediation of data protection incidents

- The prevention and handling of data protection incidents and compliance with the relevant legal requirements are the responsibility of the Data Controller's manager.
- Access and attempted access to IT systems should be logged and analysed on an ongoing basis.
- If employees of the Controller who are authorised to carry out checks detect a data protection incident in the course of their duties, they must immediately notify the Controller's manager.
- Data breaches can be reported to the email address on the website.

- In the event of a data breach notification, the mandatory must immediately investigate the notification, identifying the incident, deciding whether it is a real incident or a false alert. It must be examined and determined:
 - the time and place of the incident,
 - a description of the incident, its circumstances, its effects,
 - the scope and quantity of data compromised in the incident,
 - the range of persons affected by the compromised data,
 - a description of the measures taken to deal with the incident,

- a description of the measures taken to prevent, remedy or reduce the damage.
- In the event of a data breach, the systems, people and data involved should be contained and segregated, and care should be taken to collect and preserve evidence that the breach occurred. After that, the restoration of the damage and the return to lawful operation can begin.

XIV.3. Records of data protection incidents

- Records of data protection incidents must be kept, including:
 - the scope of the personal data concerned,
 - the scope and number of data subjects affected by the data breach,
 - the date of the data breach,
 - the circumstances and effects of the data breach,
 - the measures taken to remedy the data breach,
 - other data specified in the legislation providing for the processing.

Data on data breaches in the register must be kept for 5 years.

XV. THE LEGAL REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO THE DATA SUBJECT:

If the Data Subject does not agree with the decisions of the Controller, he or she may also seek a remedy before an ordinary court or tribunal in accordance with Article 77 of the GDPR.

The Data Subject may seek redress for a breach of his or her rights in relation to the processing of personal data before the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information or, if the Authority fails to act or the Data Subject disagrees with the decision, may bring an action before the competent court in the place of his or her habitual residence.

The National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information can be contacted at the following contact details:

title: 1055 Budapest Falk Miksa utca 11.

postal address: 1530 Budapest, Pf.: 5.

+36 (30) 683-5969, +36 (30) 549-6838, +36 (1) 391 1400

fax: +36 (1) 391-1410

e-mail: ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu

website: www.naih.hu

The Data Subject is entitled to consent to the processing of his or her personal data by the Controller only if he or she is aware of the data protection and data management provisions set out above and is aware of his or her rights and obligations in relation to the processing of his or her personal data.

XVI. DATA SECURITY MEASURES

The Data Controller shall take all measures reasonably necessary to ensure that personal data cannot be accessed by unauthorised third parties in the course of its IT systems and transactions, and shall operate a secure and closed IT network for this purpose.

In particular, we protect the data against unauthorised access, alteration, disclosure, transmission, disclosure, deletion or destruction, accidental destruction or damage, and against inaccessibility resulting from changes in the technology used.

The Data Controller shall ensure that the data stored in the records cannot be directly linked and attributed to the data subject by means of appropriate technical solutions in order to protect the data files processed.

XVII. INFORMATION ON THE USE OF "COOKIES" (for more information, see Cookie Notice!)

- What are cookies?
 - Cookies are small text files that store data and are placed on your browser device (e.g. computer, smartphone, tablet) when you visit a website.
